Proclamation by the Governor

One hundred years have passed since the Government which our forefathers established was formally organized by the inauguration of its first President, George Washington.

The Centennial of this illustrious event in our history has by an Act of the Congress of the United States, been declared a General Holiday, to the end that the people of our whole country may join in commemorative exercises appropriate to the day.

Now Therefore, I, Benjamin F. White, Governor of the Territory of Montana, in honor of so important an epoch in our country's history, and in accordance with the recommendations of the President of the United States, respectfully recommend and request, that Tuesday the 30th day of April, 1889, be observed as a General Holiday by the people of Montana Territory; that the usual studies at the Public Schools be intermitted, or exercises appropriate to the day be added; that Officers of the National Guard of Montana order their several commands to participate in such observances as may occur in their respective localities; that all business houses be closed; that corporations and individuals give the largest possible liberty to their employes to unite in the celebration of the day; that recognizing the great benefactions that have been vouchsafed to us as a Nation, all the people of Montana, at their usual places of worship at 9 o'clock A. M. join in asking the Great Giver of all good to continue us in the paths which have led us on to such blessings of peace, happiness and prosperity.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the Territory to be affixed.

It having been satisfactorily shown to me that Henry Freeman who was convicted at the District Court of Beaverhead County, M. T. for the crime of selling whiskey to Half Breeds and who was sentenced to one year imprisonment, since his release from said imprisonment has led a respectable life.

Now therefore I, Benjamin F. White, Governor of the Territory of Montana, by reason of the premises and in accordance with the provisions of the Statute, in such cases made and provided, have pardoned and by these presented do hereby grant to them the said Henry Freeman full restoration to citizenship as far as Executive Authority extends.

In witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the Territory to be affixed.

Helena, Nov. 4th 1889.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

It has long been the custom of our People, with the closing of the year, to look back upon the blessings brought them in the changing course of the seasons and to return solemn thanks to the all giving source from whom they flow. A good recurrence of that period has the reason for universal Thanksgiving by the people of our favored Territory been more conspicuous, more manifold or more universal. Now therefore I Benjamin J. White, Governor of the Territory of Montana, conforming to the proclamation of the President of the United States, do appoint and set apart Thursday the 28th day of November A.D. 1889, as a day of Thanksgiving, prayer and praise.

Let the day be one of gladness. Let those who enjoy the rearing of families and friends around the hearthstone of peace and plenty remember the widow and orphans and the lone ones.

Let those who are recipients of comfort, cheer and social enjoyment be mindful of the poor in deeds of charity. Let those who labor and toil be given by their employers a day about their own hearthstones for thanksgiving and respite without loss of their daily incomes.

Deeds of kindness thus scattered and burdens so lightened will be but "bread upon the waters" and will make the first Thanksgiving Day Anniversary of our grand young State worthy of her law abiding, generous and Christian people.

In witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory to be affixed.

Done at the City of Helena, the Capital of said Territory this the 4th day of November A.D. 1889.
